Academic book publication seminar and consultations with the editor

In this specially organized interactive seminar via Zoom, a commissioning editor from Routledge will discuss the various steps involved in publishing academic books. This workshop will be ideal for anyone who is aiming to publish their research work, including edited volumes and PhD theses to be turned into monographs, in the English language.

During the seminar, a KU author recently published from Routledge will share his experiences. There will also be slots for individual consultations with the editor, so book a slot for a Zoom meeting.
